Memories are made around a table.

Bluestone & Basil is a celebration of good food, a full table and the people who make a house feel like home. Recipes, gatherings, traditions and a little inspiration for making the everyday worth celebrating.

Brittney is a mom of two, home cook, gardener and the person who is always looking for an excuse to have everyone over. From her home in Westchester, New York, she shares what she is cooking, growing and learning along the way, plus the traditions and little rules that make feeding people easier. The house does not have to be perfect and dinner does not have to be complicated. There just has to be room for one more.

WHAT IT COVERS

Recipes

The things we actually cook. Weeknight dinners, Sunday suppers, cocktails and recipes made for sharing.

Garden

What we are planting, growing and learning, and how it all makes its way back to the table.

Inspiration

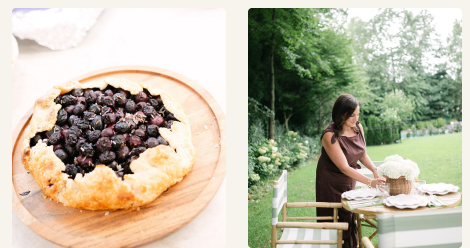

Menus, tables, traditions and Bluestone Rules. Ideas to borrow, make your own and bring to your table.

Hosting

Prepared meals and small-event catering, whether you are feeding your family or a house full of friends.

BLUESTONE RULES

The rule of five. Greet with a drink. Family table and family style. Prep yesterday, enjoy today.

AVAILABLE FOR

Prepared meals and small-event catering in Westchester and the New York area. Brand partnerships that belong on a real table: cookware, linens, wine, produce, the good olive oil. Appearances, classes, press and television.
